Carlos Micheal Clark, age 47, has been arrested by the Romulus Police Department for stalking.

On March 28th, Detective Mike Kapelanski states that Clark tried to make contact with the victim by going to her apartment building, at that time violating a personal protection order. Clark was on probation for a previous offense of assault and battery involving the same victim.

Officers went to the scene, arresting Clark. In a video arraignment, Clark was charged with aggravated stalking.

On January 1, 1993, Michigan joined 28 other states by criminalizing stalking behavior in an effort to protect victims of harassment, putting an end to stalking. Michigan residents gained some of the strongest stalking laws in the nation when Public Acts 251, 260, 261 and 262 were enacted.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF INKSTER

Students in awe at opera star’s high notes

For students at Inkster High, it seems that it isn't over until you hear George Shirley.

Shirley, one of the great African-American opera stars of our times, not only performed for the student body, but later managed to find time to critique some 18 talented high school music lovers on how to improve their performances.

"Mr. Shirley's importance to the musical world is very significant," noted Tyrone Mills, the high school's music instructor who extended an invitation to the opera star to perform at the local high school. "I had been meaning to ask him for a while to come here to the high school. His wife and I both attend Peoples Community Church. Luckily, he happened to come with her one Sunday while it was on my mind. I asked him if he could do me a huge favor for free.

"He asked what it was, skeptically. When I told him it was to instruct my students, he replied: "Sure, when I would love, too!"

How did Inkster High students' reaction to the opera star to perform at the local high school? They were in awe.

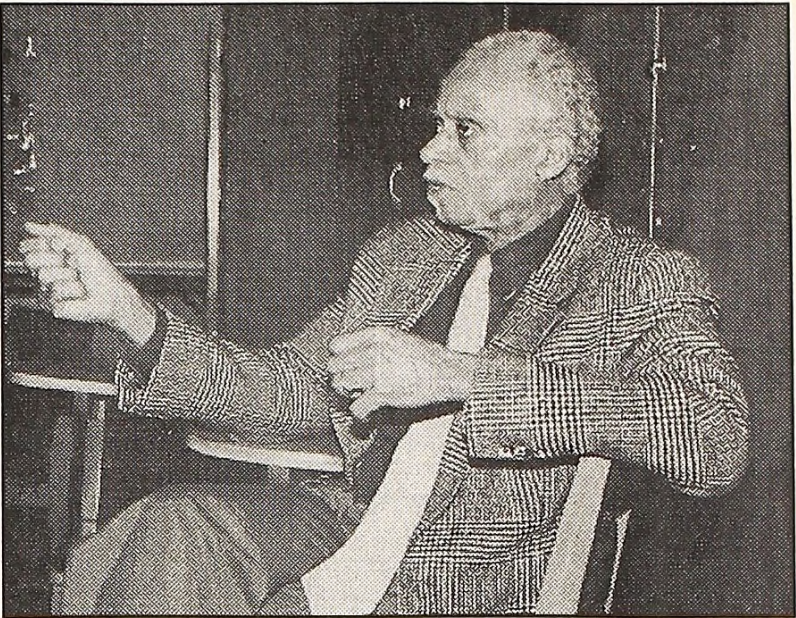

"Instead of a lot of criticism he gave them pointers on how to improve what they were doing," Mills said.

And what does Mills believe was the highlight of George Shirley's appearance before the class?

"I guess when he made one of my students (Edward Cluke) get serious, sing from his heart, and pronounce the lyrics better. It is hard to get Edward serious on anything in school," Mills continued. "When he stood still and sung it made a huge difference. Another was when Ashley Kirkland sang 'Alabaster Box.' She just did a great job. We were all surprised she could sing that well."

Mills also plans to get such celebrities as Martha Reeves to come to Inkster and also invite the students at Blanchette Middle School to visit the Motown Museum.

Whoever said that attending school isn't fun?

Dr. George Shirley (above), a world-renowned African-American opera star, recently paid students and teachers a visit at Inkster High where he conducted a musical demonstration and critiqued 18 talented students in music instructor Tyrone Mills' class.

A beautiful lady celebrates her 102nd birthday

Florence Kelly is a very rare person. And she has very few peers.

Florence, known as the "Mother of the New Christ Temple Church of Christ" last week celebrated her 102nd birthday.

"She is such a beautiful person with rare thoughts and always greets you with a smile," says Sarah Knox, a member of the church's congregation. "How many of us will ever celebrate our 100th birthday, let alone 102nd?"

Born April 3, 1900, in Jackson, Mississippi, Florence came to the Metropolitan Detroit area when the first Model T rolled off the production line at Henry Ford's Highland Park Plant. She "guesses that that was about 1907, putting her around 7-years-old.

Later, she married and had 15 children, five of whom are still living. Mrs. Kelly also had scores of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

She enjoys church, and will never miss a Wednesday night Bible Study or Sunday Service.

What does she attribute her longevity to?

"I believe in God and the goodness in people," she says. "While you're here, do good. That is the key to the Kingdom of Heaven."

Surprise, new airport authority does not have local representation

County Executive Edward McNamara and Michigan Governor John Engler named six people to the new Detroit Metro/Willow Run airport authority, and surprise, none of the appointments represent the City of Romulus or greater Western Wayne area.

The Authority, the brainchild of McNamara and Engler, will operate the airports. Until now, Wayne County has controlled the operations with McNamara ultimately in charge and the County Commission approving contracts.

But under mounting fire for sweetheart contracts and mismanagement, McNamara decided to cut his best deal — the new Authority that allows him to appoint four of the seven members and essentially maintain control.

That however, is not the case for the County Commission. They are extremely upset with the new Authority concept, that effectively takes them out of power and control. McNamara and Engler saw fit to allow the Commission to appoint only one member.

The County Commission hopes that won't happen. They have mounted a legal challenge to the new Authority and are hoping the Federal Aviation Administration will not approve the new Authority.

Although we believe the Authority concept is the way to go, we are not happy with the lack of local representation. Governor Engler appointed PVS Chemical CEO James Nicholson, a man who has donated millions to Engler and in return has been appointed to every possible position Engler has to offer. Almost the same can be said for his second appointment, CMS Energy CEO William McCormick. McNamara appointed four with distinct Detroit connections: Ford Motor's Wayne Doran, past president of Detroit Renaissance Michael Glusac, senior vice-president of St. John Health System Vernice Anthony and Teamsters Local 247 former secretary-treasurer Kenneth Hollowell.

If it weren't for the airport, none of these appointees could find their way to Romulus, and I bet you at 10 to 1 odds, that none have set foot on Willow Run concrete. They all might be gifted administrators, but we need one representative that will look out for the local interests of Romulus and Western Wayne.

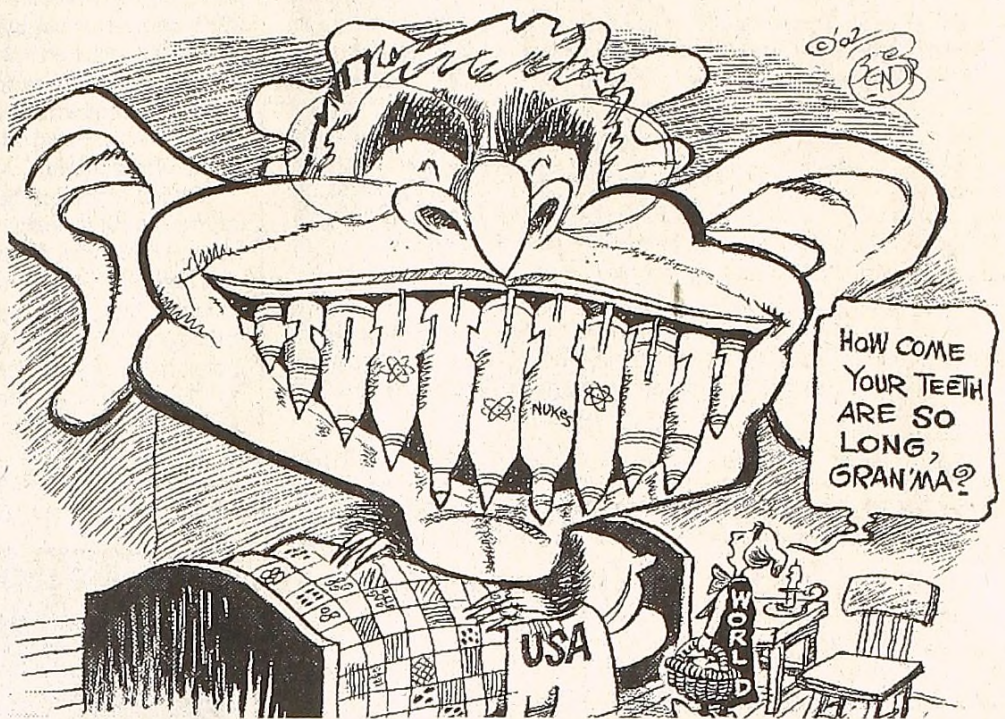

I am told the new Authority is patterned after others at similar airports. In my opinion one should only look at the Nashville Airport Authority — a ten member board that must have two neighborhood representatives. Orlando, one of the world's busiest (Detroit is slightly larger) has one representative appointed by the mayor and one by the county commission.

Romulus residents have voiced their disgust for a long long time over lack of airport representation. It is time for City Council and our state legislators to stand-up and demand representation for homeowners and citizens that must deal with daily inconveniences created by the airports.

Reporters tell some of the story

Come election time, platitudes about apathy abound.

Whenever an unpopular candidate or issue wins, there's no shortage of people surfacing to blame apathetic people who don't vote.

Critics often attribute political apathy, the lack of interest or concern about civic matters, to an over-worked citizenry that is too busy to volunteer, join service organizations, or read newspapers, magazines or books to stay informed.

Critics often cite the decline in newspaper readership as a sign of civic decay.

So it was refreshing to hear Westland Councilman Dennis LeMaitre defend his refusal to read newspapers.

"I don't read newspapers," he said at last week's Westland City Council meeting. "I don't have time."

Last time I checked, LeMaitre received the same 24-hours-a-day allotment given to all Earth's creatures, great or small. But as a successful businessman, an elected official, and longtime volunteer worker, he prioritizes his hours differently than newspaper readers.

Why? Because, he said: "Newspapers condense. They never get the whole story. . . . They give a synopsis. Though they do the best job they can, they can't tell the whole story."

LeMaitre is correct. Instead of reporting every detail, journalists try to filter out extraneous perceptions and to summarize the relevant ones. And thank God newspapers, like human beings, have figured out how to summarize. Otherwise, humans would be reduced to animals by the "blooming buzzing confusion" that is the world of sounds, colors, smells, tastes, and bumps.

Summarizing — the process that philosophers call inductive thinking but what I call connecting the dots — was an evolutionary step that made thinking possible.

It was necessary to connect plants with food, caves with shelter,

Vantastic

flint with fire for Man to progress mentally and societal from the lesser primates and from the looser politicians, who tend to scatter too many dots for citizens to connect bad politicians to bad policies.

If this sounds too theoretical, perhaps I should give a more down-to-earth example: Though there are billions of men and women in the world, you don't try them all out before popping the question, you filter out a billion to marry one — or at least one at a time.

If only our lives were long enough to experience every sensation. In the meantime, like a cub reporter at his first city council meeting, we have to filter and summarize.

Ballot language scams voters

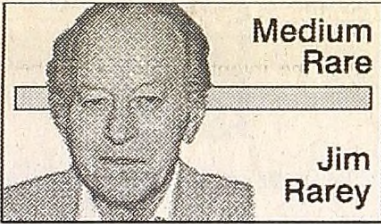

Politicians have many techniques for hiding true intentions from the voters as legislation is working its way through the process or in ballot proposals the public is asked to approve. One of the most successful has been the four words "and for other purposes."

Used at all levels of government, the phrase appears in the "short" description of proposed legislation or in the "official" wording of ballot proposals (but not necessarily on the ballot itself).

The U.S. Congress is the major perpetrator of this deception as most of the bills introduced and passed contain the phrase in the short description presented to the public and other legislators. If one does not read the entire text of the bill, provisions that bear no relationship to the stated "main" purpose will be missed. Indeed, some politicians disavow unpopular provisions in laws for which they voted, claiming they didn't know it was contained in the bill.

However, the most dangerous deception is in ballot proposals. In Michigan, as in many other states, ballot descriptions are limited to a maximum number of words, i.e. one hundred, even though the actual proposal passed by a legislative body may contain twice as many words or more.

What most voters do not realize is that they are voting on the full text of the proposal adopted by the legislative body that they have not seen. While there is supposed to be a screening process to ensure that the wording on the ballot "fairly" represents the entire proposal, a couple of examples show that voters cannot trust that "safeguard" either.

Medium Rare

Several years ago, Wayne County voters were asked to approve a bond issue to help fund two stadiums in Detroit to be financed by new taxes imposed on car rentals and hotels. The measure passed countywide although it was soundly defeated in most of the Detroit suburbs. Voters of course thought the money would only be used for the stadiums.

However, the "official" wording allowed other uses. Thus the County Commission has authorized $50 million of the "tourist tax" to be used in County Executive Ed McNamara's Pinnacle project and is contemplating using another $100 million for a countywide cleanup of various sites to "spruce up" the area's image for upcoming events.

The City of Taylor a number of years ago changed the terms of its elected officials from two to four years. The change required approval by the voters of an amendment to the city charter. The wording on the ballot only addressed the change in the length of terms. However, the "official" wording adopted by the City Council also changed the date when newly elected officials would take office.

The original charter provided that new officials would take office at the first meeting of the City Council after the (November) election results were certified. The "official" proposal changed that date to the first meeting in January after the November elections; thus giving defeated (lame duck) officials nearly two months to change city policies and ordinances before their replacements took office.

This did not seem like a big deal until a controversy arose over the generous pensions the council had provided for themselves. In a lame duck session, defeated officials pushed through a change in the city pension plan that eliminated pensions for new council members but preserved their own.

The obvious lesson to be learned in just these two of many examples that could be cited, is don't trust the politicians to tell you everything contained in legislation or ballot proposals. Get the "official" wording and read it for yourself.

Guys to dominate Naked Mile

Did someone say, How about a little song?

"Take me out to the ball game, take me out to the game. Buy me some peanuts and crackerjacks, I don't care if I ever come back."

I made my annual pilgrimage to downtown Detroit on Tiger baseball on opening day. I had to make sure Comerica Park was still there. It was, and it looked nice.

A surprising amount of fans and a surprising amount of building going on downtown. If they're not careful, they might end up with something. That is the city, not the Tigers.

The new Lions' Ford Field is taking shape right next to Comerica.

The casinos, theaters, night clubs, and the former RenCen, now the new home of GM.

Don't get me wrong, downtown Detroit still has to many streets that look like downtown Islamabad, but there is positive growth there.

I heard from Charley the Cab Driver. Charley says he loves the column, but wishes I would talk a little more about sports.

I enjoy talking sports, and this is a great time to talk sports. Red Wings getting ready for a run at the Stanley Cup. The Pistons are in first place, and no one predicted that. Not even team president Joe Dumars, who should be voted NBA Executive of the Year.

I still do a guest spot every Wednesday night at 8:10 p.m. on my friend JT the Brick's Fox Sports Radio show, that's 1310 AM.

On last week's show I mentioned the Tigers, their lack of pitching, and their lack of experience. I also mentioned that, of all the sports, baseball makes for the best reading. So many box scores, hitting stats, games within the game. Even when you see the game live, you can't wait to break it down, to read about it play by play. Other sports just don't flow as well on paper.

Heard from Joe the U of M College student, who reminds us the Naked Mile takes place April 17, the last day of classes for this semester.

He predicts there will be more naked guys then beautiful female runners, plenty of perverts, and several arrests.

I met a girl named Sue who wore a short red miniskirt. Sue told me she knew a guitar player named Dave, who plays in a band called the

Jet Set

Ben E. Jet

Blues Airmen. They are having a birthday party for Dave. This bash will be April 20 at the Overtime Saloon on Michigan Avenue in Inkster. The party is open to the public and will feature several of the WRIF radio crew and the Ghoul, a TV legend.

Heard from a guy named Homer, who owns a bar called Lora's, on Telegraph Road south of Ecorse Road, next to Wal-Mart.

Homer hired Benny and the Jets band to play there every Friday and Saturday for the month of April. Homer has this crazy idea, that if you have a nice place, nice people will show up, and they will have a nice time.

Clinic used the Westland City Council broadcast to advertise abortions

We don't need that abortion clinic coming to the Westland City Council to do their advertising. That's what that person was doing. She was advertising her business.

Who does she think she was conning?

I can do without her advertising the abortion clinic.

And as far as that neighbor who complained about her kids seeing the graphic signs, I'm sure her kids see plenty of blood and violence on TV.

Caller would rather pay taxes for Schoolcraft than WCCC

Westland residents do not need to pay for Wayne County Community College.

We want a campus that is near us and courses of study leading to where there is money to be made.

WCCC is a college that caters to Detroiters, and we need Schoolcraft Community College to cover all of Westland.

We don't need high gas prices with so many people looking for work

The high price of gas is going to go up like it did last summer.

Why? When the buildings were blown up in New York, all of a sudden the prices went down. Who was controlling it? Was the president? Who was it?

There are a lot of people in Michigan who are out of work. There's a lot of people in Portland, Oregon, who are out of work.

At Labor Ready, there's about 100 people everyday looking for work. We don't need high price prices on gas.

LeBlanc supporter will keep his campaign bumper sticker on his car

He asked when I was going to take the LeBlanc for Mayor bumper sticker off. Well, it will remain there until the next election. I'm just waiting to see how long it takes for people to realize that Cicirelli is a great council member and attorney but not a mayor.

The fire and police departments seem to have bought into her. The fire department knew their trucks were wearing out and said nothing. And, hey, when is Police Chief Emery Price retiring? I thought he said he would go after the elections. I thought they were in November 2001.

I am taking a wait and see attitude. I have a gut feeling about the direction this city is headed and it isn't good. And as long as I have a sticker on my car for LeBlanc, you can't blame me for the current administration or lack of. I voted for LeBlanc, so don't blame me for you not doing your homework before going to the polls.

And if things get really muddy, keep an eye on my house's front window. I'll put out a sign in my front picture window saying, "Don't blame me, I voted for LeBlanc for mayor."

What a lousy city council. No e-mail address on the Westland Web site to contact them. Grundstadt is the only one worthy of praise.

LeBlanc was the greatest asset to this city in over 30 years. He was not into dirty politics like the others. He was easy to reach through e-mail and by phone, and he was an honest and straight forward person.

Sumpter may remain in 11th District

To the editor:

In your April 4, 2002 edition of the Belleville Enterprise, you ran a front-page story titled "Sullivan's new district won't include Sumpter."

Unfortunately you reiterated information that was contained in the Sunday, March 31, 2002 Detroit News that was not up to date and not necessarily correct.

Please note that the new boundaries of the 11th Commission District may still include Sumpter Township, and I would appreciate it if you could run a new story letting them know that.

The Detroit News article, on which you based your story, was based upon information that is several months old.

The original District map that was submitted by the Wayne County Apportionment Commission did draw new boundaries, which did not include Sumpter Township or Huron Township in the 11th District. However, in a decision dated October 26, 2001, the Michigan Court of Appeals sent that plan back to the Apportionment Commission, indicating that the 11th District still needed to reduce its population by at least 365 people.

In November of 2001, the Apportionment Commission met and approved a new plan in Accordance with the Court of Appeals Order.

That new plan places Sumpter Township back in the 11th District and moves the City of Romulus along with Huron Township to the 15th District.

Meanwhile, some local Republicans have submitted the "Gardner Plan," and they are asking the Court of Appeals to adopt that plan, which takes Huron, Romulus, and the City of Wayne out of the 11th District and adds Plymouth Township to it.

Unfortunately, the Court of Appeals still has not made a decision on which plan to adopt, even though the filing deadline is only a month away. It is my understanding that all plans are still under consideration.

I hope that this information is useful to you and that you might print a story about it to inform your readers and my constituents in Western Wayne County of the current status of the County Redistricting plan.

As always, please feel free to contact me to verify information or to answer any questions or concerns that you may have. I am always open and available to you and your reporters, as we both have the same goal, to provide accurate and current information to the good people of Western Wayne County.

Sincerely,
John J. Sullivan

Dingell pays his way

To the editor:

I regret that either a misimpression or a misunderstanding led to your recent editorial.

As I noted in my voice mail message to you, the staffer who called your newspaper says she requested a short-term subscription, and did not seek a free subscription.

Most importantly, I have clear policies and practices barring such requests. I do not ask for special treatment from airline security personnel, and I do not ask for special treatment elsewhere.

Therefore, I will be forwarding under separate cover a check for a two-year subscription and look forward to renewing it.

My staff already has been in touch about scheduling a meeting with Michigan Community Newspapers. I look forward to meeting with you soon to discuss issues of concern to the people of southeast Michigan.

With every good wish,

Sincerely yours,
Congressman John D. Dingell

Memorial heads to Quiz Bowl

Wayne Memorial will be sending a team to the Quiz Bowl state finals this year for the first time. Having finished their season with a 6-3 record, the team placed as a runner-up, earning their spot in the 2002 April 19 and 20 finals at Michigan State University.

Robert Switzer, Mark Palmer, Jesse Jarvis, Janelle Butner, Elisabeth Banks, Daniel Torok, Bilal Muta and Daniel Ursem are members of Wayne Memorial's quiz team.

In a format similar to Jeopardy, four students are asked random questions about math, science, history, music, art and other subjects.

"The students have to be very well rounded," said Coach Ed McGovern, whose team has seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. He rotates the students to fill the necessary four-member limit.

Switzer, captain of the quiz team, is surprised at their performance.

"It is really amazing because this is our first year competing, we really were the underdogs," he said.

Practices are held on every Monday and Wednesday after school.

Most of the team members joined quiz teams in middle school. "I joined in the 8th grade, and have been here ever since," said Banks. "We're all pretty nervous, but we just will do our best and have fun."

Tigers are off to 4-0 season

Weather Willow Run can't stop Belleville

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The Tigers are off to a 4-0 start. No, not the Detroit Tigers who have dropped their first five games, but the Belleville Tigers which swept both ends of their season-opener against Willow Run, then did the same against a traditionally strong Allen Park team on Saturday.

The only element that has troubled the Tigers, the Belleville Tigers, during the young season has been the elements. The weather has been horrendous.

Sophomore Belleville coach Chris Dessellier, who doesn't like the cold, says he does like what he sees in this year's team: The Tigers are doing the unimaginable.

"We have a solid core of seniors - nine to be exact, and also an excellent crop of sophomores and juniors," said Dessellier after his team's fourth straight win. "How far we will go this year will depend upon how far these kids want to go.

These kids have been around the diamond for some time now, and they are going to be tough.

In the season opener, Dessellier sent Derek Dufrane to the mound and the senior pitcher notched a 4-3 victory over Willow Run as he struck out eight, walked two in six innings of work. Tiger reliever Brett Luzak preserved the victory.

Belleville's Phil Meadows, who stroked two hits in three at-bats, and Josh Ivan, also with a pair of hits, accounted for four of the Tigers' eight hits.

In the nightcap, Belleville shot down the Flyers 13-6 as righthander Nate Gabrys, who pitched the first five innings, got the victory.

Down 3-0 after four innings against Allen Park, Belleville rallied to a 7-6 victory in a crossover Mega Conference game as Meadows drilled a bases-loaded double over the centerfielder's head that opened the gate to the victory.

Reliever Josh Justice pitched the sixth inning, and got credit for the victory. Ivan continued to look good at the plate as he latched on to a single and double in three appearances. Dufrane and McClean also chipped in two hits apiece.

Sophomore James Erickson made his pitching debut an auspicious one as he fanned five, walked one and twirled a two-hitter in Belleville's 13-0 sweep of the Jaguar. Jack Schmidt collected two hits, including a double, and Derek Brooks also came through with a single and double for the winners.

Belleville was scheduled to play a doubleheader Wednesday against Wayne Memorial. Wayne has six games under its belts and split with natural rival, Westland John Glenn in the opener.

Then, on Saturday, Dessellier and the Tigers will entertain Chelsea in another out-of-conference twin bill before opening up the Mega Red season at home on Monday against Monroe.

The realigned Mega-Red will include the defending champ, Trenton, along with Belleville, Garden City, Lincoln Park, Southgate Anderson and Taylor Truman.

Robichaud to hosts Dearborn in opener

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Richard Orsette is looking for a reversal of baseball fortunes this season, for five solid reasons.

Orsette will launch the Mega Conference baseball campaign and his seventh season as head coach at Robichaud High School on Friday when Dearborn High invades the Bulldog diamond. And the veteran coach has five holdovers from last year's campaign who can make a difference this season.

"A year ago, we had a spate of injuries and didn't have a deep enough bench to call up the reserves which spelled disastrous," recalled Orsette. "But we have five returning veterans, including Marcus Johnson, and we could possibly be up there if things fall into place."

In Johnson, Orsette has the mortar that may hold this team together. An outstanding all-around athlete who starred for the Bulldogs in football and basketball (Marcus was picked by the MCN sports staff for All-Area in both sports) Johnson is one of three veterans returning to the mound.

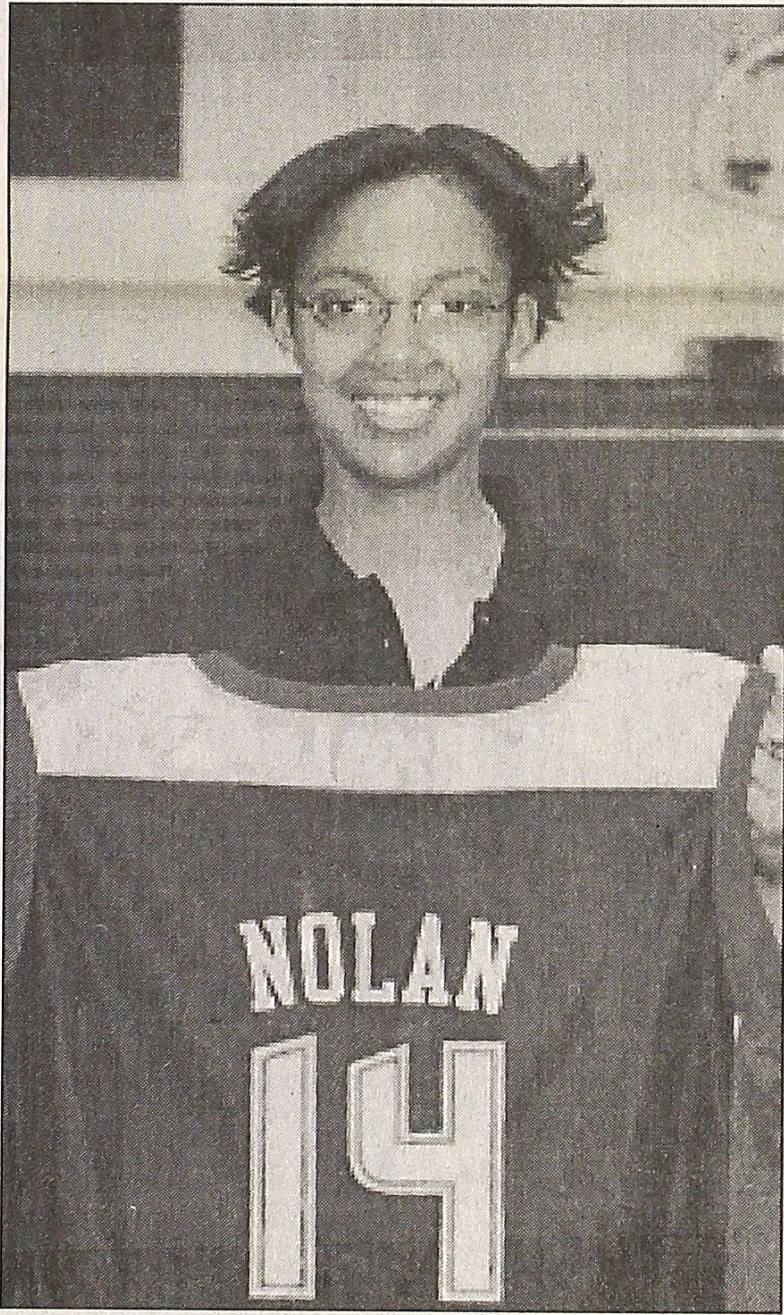

A righthander whose 6-6 stature can be intimidating, Johnson has the potential to develop into one of the best pitchers in the area this season.

"We plan to use him (Johnson) in nine of our 12 conference games," said Orsette. That's how much confidence Orsette has in his senior hurler.

Joining Johnson in the starting pitching rotation are Michael Hendricks, a senior who was not with the team a year ago; Anthony Ayler, and Christopher Stubbs, who could be Robichaud's ticket to a winning season.

Hendricks, when not on the mound, will occupy centerfield. Also returning from last year's campaign are Michael Stewart, who is being groomed as a catcher-first baseman; Andre Harris, at short-

Nolan, a former All-American who played her collegiate basketball at the University of Georgia after earning All-State recognition in high school at Flint Northern, toured Romulus schools recently with her message. She also stopped at the Romulus Middle School where she congratulated the Lady Bulldogs' eighth grade team for their dream season. The team posted an undefeated season. For starters, Wayne, Glenn split doubleheader

MCN Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial jumped on John Glenn's ace Brandon Ajlouny for six runs in the top of the third inning and went on to post a 7-2 victory over their arch-rivals in the season's opener for Glenn. The Westlanders came back in the second game and, behind junior righthander Kyle Rutkowski's three-hitter, blanked Coach Tom Wakefield's ball club, 7-0.

In the opener, Ryan Ybarra went the distance, struck out four and walked one for his first win of the 2002 campaign. The Wayne senior survived 10 hits, and managed to pitch himself out of trouble. He did not allow Glenn on the scoreboard until the bottom of the sixth.

Ajlouny lasted 2 1/3 innings in his 2002 debut. He was tagged for seven hits, struck out two. Ybarra lost his bid for a shutout in the sixth when Ricky Verville singled home Will Massey, who got aboard on a single. In the bottom of the seventh, Rutkowski doubled and was chased home on Ajlouny's base hit.

Ajlouny continued his hitting streak in the nightcap as he tagged losing pitcher Tom Colo. for a triple, double and single and scored three runs. Julian Fraser also drove in two Glenn runs thanks to a pair of singles and a double.

Glenn also split a twin bill with Redford Union on Saturday as reliever Will Kennedy chalked up the victory. Coach Todd Duffield started Fraser who scattered seven R. U. hits, struck out four and allowed three hits for his four innings on the mound before Kennedy took over and pitched the fifth, sixth and seventh frames.

Tied at one-all going into the bottom of the seventh, the Westlanders scored the winning run when Ajlouny drilled a triple down the third base line that drove in Rutkowski, who had doubled to get aboard.

Glenn scored its only other run in the opening inning as Ajlouny walked, moved to second on Fraser's single and scored on Massey's RBI single.

Four errors in the third inning that produced five R. U. runs cost Glenn a 7-5 setback in the second game. Rutkowski was the victim of his teammates' porous defense. In five innings on the mound, he gave up seven of R.U.'s 11 hits, struck out three, and walked two.

In the last of the seventh, the Rockets exploded for three runs as Kennedy got aboard on an error and advanced to second thanks to Ajlouny's single. Both runners scored when Craig Lewis doubled. The Rockets continued to threaten as Aaron Schwartz singled Lewis to third, and Lewis scored on a wild pitch. With two away, Brent Turner sliced one to right centerfield but was tossed out at second in his attempt to stretch it into a double.

Ranked among the top 25 teams in the state this year, the Rockets and Farmington are the pre-season picks to win the Western Lakes, Lakes Division title.

With Ajlouny, Fraser, and Rutkowski back on the mound and Will Kennedy looking impressive in his two outings this season, Duffield appears to have the premier pitching staff in the area. But is Glenn's pitchers enough to stop defending champ, Farmington Hills Harrison? Harrison is looking for a repeat, but will have to do it at the expense of a highly-improved Plymouth-Canton and Walled Lake Western in the Western Division.

"These kids certainly have paid their dues. They know what they are up against, and I believe that they can have an outstanding season, but the defense must come around," said Duffield who is in his seventh year as head coach.

Glenn was scheduled to play Mega-Red newcomer, Garden City, Monday afternoon, but rain wiped that one off the schedule. The Rockets don't have another game until Saturday when they will host Milford for a doubleheader that begins at noon.

No shift in the balance of power in Mega-Gold

Defending champ Crestwood is team to beat

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Although the winds of change have ruffled the Mega-Conference Gold Division lineup, they haven't dramatically altered the power base of the division. Dearborn Heights Crestwood, which shared the Gold Division title with Fordson a year ago, remains an overwhelming favorite to repeat as champion.

But with five solid pitchers back, two of whom are southpaws at Romulus High coaches also say that the Eagles may torment those who are would-be title-seekers.

Romulus coach Keith Brothers agrees that his ball club may surprise this year. And he could walk away with his first-ever championship.

"In the four years I have been here as head coach, I have never been as deep in pitching as I am this year," said Brothers whose Eagles split with Lutheran Westland in its opener. Romulus won the opener, 10-7, but dropped a 5-3 decision in the second game.

"I know I can field a very competitive team this year, but if we are going to go all the way we will have to play defense. That's what we have been working on during the pre-season. If it (defense) holds up, there is no reason why we shouldn't win it."

Brothers has a pair of good-looking southpaws in Josh Phillips and Jacob Mercado and he also has two solid throwers in junior righthanders Jamie Henne and Ron Buckley. Buckley also is tough at the plate. He batted .400 as a sophomore and, as a soph, muscled his way into the All-Area lineup, picked by the MCN Sports Staff.

Phillips wasted little time chalking up his first victory as he scattered seven Lutheran hits, struck out 12 and walked four in an impressive opening-day start. He received ample hitting support from his teammates, who collected 13 hits off of three Lutheran pitchers.

In his third at-bats, Romulus's Steve Moore drilled a three-run homer in the bottom of the third to break a 4-all tie. Moore's homer sailed over the centerfielder's head that drove in Mark Woody, who had singled to get aboard, and Chapman, who also singled.

Chapman finished the game with a single and a double. Also beginning the season with two hits each were Mike Murphy, Rick Rhinehart, Chapman and Woody.

However, Lutheran Westland came back in the nightcap and rallied for two runs in the sixth and added one more in the seventh to edge the Eagles, 5-3. Mercado was charged with the loss. He worked the first 3 2/3 innings, and gave way to James Henne who gave up three unearned runs.

Romulus exploded for three runs in the bottom of the seventh and left two stranded on the bases.

"We committed four costly errors in this one," said Brothers.

"Like I said, we have been stressing defense, but we surely didn't play it in that second game."

Romulus has three crossover games scheduled for the week before the Eagles begin the Mega-Gold season. On Tuesday, weather permitting, they were scheduled to play Wyandotte and on Wednesday the Eagles took on Taylor Truman.

On Monday, the curtains will come up on the 2002 Mega-Gold Division season with Romulus entertaining Fordson, a team that will be hard-pressed to defend its share of the 2001 championship.

Franklin students plan to teach teachers a hoop lesson

It's rare for a student to teach a teacher anything these days.

And teachers - like parents - know that students know everything.

But a group of students at Franklin Middle School in the Wayne-Westland Community School District plan to teach their teachers a lesson next week - they are determined to teach them some few pointers in the exciting game of hoops.

Hoops, as the younger generation calls it, is basketball. To those in the thirty-and-something generation, it has always been basketball.

"They decided to take us on," said a teacher who was asked to be publicist for the game.

"I think we can still teach them."

Don't know about that, but the game is scheduled for 3:45 p.m. on Wednesday, April 24, at the middle school. That's also Secretaries' Day, isn't it.

There is no admission charge, and the fans are invited to attend.

Opener

stop, and Melvin Ballard, who is back at second.

There is no shortage of outfielders: Robert Rizer, Jason Hall, Marice Love, Aaron Ayler, and Stubbs all are competing for starting assignments. Jason's younger brother, James, is working out behind the plate and Nate Gross will fill in at short or third, where needed. Orsette also has Andrew Curren available in the infield, at second, or ready to catch.

Hoping to avoid a roller-coaster season with the 16 players he has on the roster, Orsette is quick to point out that the road to the Mega-Gold Division title goes through Crestwood.

"Crestwood and Fordson are the co-champs, but Crestwood has most of their kids back from last year's championship squad. They are going to be tough, while Fordson lost a lot and may have to re-tool before they become contenders again.

"I will be able to tell more about what this team is like after the Dearborn game. They also field a competitive team and it will be a good test for us," Orsette said.

Ex-Glenn track star shines at Lansing CC

A former Westland John Glenn track star continues to shine in college.

Latasha Chandler, an All-Area and Western Lakes Conference All-Conference sprinter a year ago, continues to set a fast pace at Lansing Community College.

Chandler was recently named the Most Valuable Athlete at an invitational staged in Crawfordsville, Indiana where she led her team to a second-place finish in a field of 15 teams. Lansing was runner-up to Ohio Cuyahoga Community College.

Chandler placed first in the 60-meter dash, 200-meter dash, in the 60-meter hurdles and also the long jump. The tireless freshman then came back and helped her teammates win the distance medley relay that toured the event in a stunning 13:54.

According to her parents, Latasha has a "very strong will to be the best in the field at whatever she takes on."

Raised in Inkster, Chandler not only competed in the sprints but also was a standout in basketball.

At Lansing CC, Coach Charles Block says that Chandler has the potential to be among the best in her class nationally. She has qualified in the hurdles nationally.

Where does Chandler want to be two years from now? Has she picked her college?

"I don't know where I want to go yet," she admits. "Right now I enjoy drawing and graphics, and I am working hard on my degree in fine arts."

Former Romulus High track coach dies at 40

Local and area sports fans are mourning the death of former Romulus High School track coach and all-around athlete Leslie Steven Beregsasy.

Beregsasy, who played football and ran track at Romulus and later came back to coach the Eagles died on Saturday, April 6. Coach Beregsasy was 40-years old.

Fans and friends remember Beregsasy as a "player's player, a coach's coach."

"When he took on a task, he always gave it his best. He was someone who excelled at everything he did. He played football, hockey, ran track, coached track at the high school and also coached youth hockey in Melvindale.

"He also loved music and played the guitar."

After leaving high school Beregsasy married Cindy Shellman, his high school sweetheart. They had two children - Lindsay, who is in the eighth grade at Romulus Middle School, and Zachary, who is in the fourth grade at Wick Elementary.

Along with his wife and two children, Beregsasy is also survived by his mother, Clara Beregsasy, his step-father, Nick Onya, two sisters: Katie Waldman and Adrian Jones.

Funerals arrangements are being handled by Crane Funeral Home in Romulus. Services also will be conducted at St. Aloysius Church in Romulus. Interment is at Romulus Cemetery.
